The Magnificent Weber Piano of To-day

TO purchase any high-grade piano without hearing the Weber, is to ignore the march of progress and the recent achievements of the most notable staff of musical instrument experts in the world.

The Weber Grand

with its new action, realizes to-day a piano ideal which five years ago seemed to be beyond expectation.

The Weber Upright

possesses a tonal magnificence but a shade below that of the Grand. Its lower registers in particular have a majesty and sonorous beauty that are almost organ-like.

FOR half a century builders of high-grade pianos have striven to produce an action in which the blow, or sense of impact, should be minimized, and a tone that should have a certain subtle combination of brilliancy with velvety smoothness—a singing quality akin to the human voice.

THERE are no words which can really describe either this action or this tone quality, but when you play a piano that has them, it will be something WHICH YOU CAN NEVER FORGET. Any day you choose you may have this experience at Aeolian Hall, the home of the Weber Piano.

Many of them nowhere else—for they are now singing under exclusive Columbia contracts—records that may be played on any disc instrument, and are better in surface, tone and durability than any others, and so guaranteed to you. ¶ Hear them on the Columbia Grafonola “Favorite” here illustrated, and you will admit the claims of “the one incomparable musical instrument.” ¶ New catalogs of Columbia instruments and records of any Columbia dealer or from us by mail.
